LARGE CROWD AT S. T. C. LAWN FETE

GOOD BUSINESS CARRIED ON AT STANDS

ATTRACTIVE DECORATION

Easter dance given by three girls The Feature of the Evening — Band Concert

Those in charge of the Lawn Fete, held last night at the State Teachers College, pronounce it a success and say that they are well pleased with the results. One hundred and fifty motor cars were parked at the College and a thousand people were there in the course of the evening. There was a good demand for the things on sale in the stands. The home-made candy was all gone away before closing up time and twenty-five gallons of ice cream was dished out and sold. Things in other stands in a general way sold equally as well.

The grounds at the south of the building and inside the road were lit up with Japanese lanterns and presented an attractive appearance.

The festivities began with the weekly concert of the Maryville band, under the direction of C. D. Kutschinski. The program of the band was varied and a part of it at least was appreciated by everyone there.

Following the band concert there was a short intermission, then a program, given by College people and gotten up by the Y. W. C. A. of the College.

The first number of the program was a folk dance, given by Ruth Cline Margaret Dietz, Mildred Garten and Lois Daniels. The dance was called Kate Grenway Polka. The girls did their dance well and received a generous applause.

But the cutest feature of the evening was the dance of the Easter rabbits, which came after Price Doyle had sung a solo. In this Esther Henderson, Amber Stoner and Owilda Cranor appeared in costumes representing white rabbits. They hopped about and had the motions and actions of a real "bunny" down pat.

Miss Flora Lee Sims played a violin solo and Miss Margaret Tool gave a Gypsy dance. The closing number on the program was a song by a quartet, consisting of Price Doyle, Charles Elmore, Alva Birch and Mr. Allison. Music for the songs and dances was furnished by Lota Claire Landfather and Helen Dean.

Following the program a large portion of the crowd remained to visit the stands, the tea garden, the ice cream parlor and the fortune tellers.

LETTER FROM REV. J. A. COOPER

PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH ON CHAUTAUQUA TOUR.

TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Had Addressed Chautauquas in a Number of Western States—Returns Here in September.

The Rev. J. A. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Maryville, who is this summer with the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua, has written a letter to The Democrat-Forum from Paonia, Colo., under date of July 19. Mr. Cooper will conclude his chautauqua tour on September 7 and will return to Maryville to resume his duties as pastor of the Baptist Church here.

Mr. Cooper was scheduled to address the chautauqua at Pueblo, Colo., today. His itinerary for the rest of the tour follows:

Eaton, Ft. Collins, Ft. Morgan, Sterling, Colo.; Lexington, Holdredge, Fairfield, Fairbury, Stromberg, Aurora, Ord, St. Edward, West Point, Oakland, Fremont, Auburn, Falls City, Neb.; Hiawatha, Sabetha, Blue Rapids, Concordia, Abilene, Russell, Ellsworth, Wamego, Kan.; Kansas City, Mo.; Olathe, Ottawa, Paola, Garnett, Iola, Yates Center, Wellington, Arkansas City, Kan.; Blackwell, Okla.; Kingman, Pratt, Liberal, Kan.; Gutmon, Okla.; Dodge City, Stafford, Kan.; Kinsley, Larned, Great Bend, McPherson, Marion, Osage City and Kansas City, Kan.

The letter of Mr. Cooper follows:

"Trust everything is going fine with the water gradually subsiding. What a flood you must have had; so sorry to hear of so much damage. Too bad some of the water couldn't have struck over on this side the mountains. Have been over near the Utah line the last few deys,—(as near as I dare be). Pueblo and Grand Junction were awful; 98 degrees in Pueblo and 102 degrees in Grand Junction; but Paonia is higher and better; still some snow on the mountains, and the air is rich and fine at night.

"The atmosphere in Missouri must be pretty dense, with so much campaigning. My, isn't the political pot boiling? And, from this distance, it appears I'll have to go fishing some lay early in November. The campaign seems pretty warm in Texas and Oklahoma, especially in Texas, but things are rather quiet in Colorado. However, no where does there seem to be such a stir as in Missouri.

"I have a faint recollection of having said that I might write you something about my trip, but I'm afraid the promise, if such it was, will have to go unfulfilled. To write of Texas is like writing about the world, to say nothing of Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska. If I should attempt anything tonight, it would not be facts, but thoughts, reflections. As always when I take a sweep of America I feel what a wonderful country it is! These farms, ranches, villages, towns, cities, this untold wealth, these hosts of folks—different and yet so alive—what a civilization it is!

"I feel this summer, as never before, I think—that our country is at or at least rapidly approaching the cross-roads; that the American spirit is in or on the edge of its great testing fire. The facts of today are not only stirring; they are startling—even alarming. And the situation is all the more disquieting when one has the conviction that as America goes, so goes the world.

"And yet as I go about from state to state, from county to county, from

LAW ENFORCEMENT RALLY FOR SUNDAY

TO BE HELD AT 3 O'CLOCK AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

MAY FORM LEAGUE HERE

Three Dates Set for Prohibition Folks to Note—Stand for Election of Dry Men.

A law enforcement rally will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church. Representatives of the anti-saloon League will be in charge and will present the matter of the organization of a Nodaway County Law Enforcement League.

The purpose of this organization will be first of all to help the officers whose oaths of office make them responsible for enforcing the prohibition law, secure evidence, witnesses and detect violation. Another thing, will be to arouse public sentiment which will demand real enforcement, which will stand back of an energetic law enforcing officers and really help, and which will not permit sluggish performance of duties.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and 11 o'clock Sunday morning, July 30, have been set as dates of interest to all who are interested in the enforcement of the Prohibition laws, according to an announcement made by the Ministers Association and the joint committee on law enforcement of the several men's Bible classes and organizations of Maryville.

Three talks on prohibition laws will be made at the Maryville Churches Sunday morning.

W. C. Shupp, will speak at the Baptist Church. He is State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, with offices in St. Louis. W. F. McCoun will speak at the Presbyterian Church on the subject "The Challenge of Citizenship." At the Buchanan Street Methodist Church the speaker will be J. C. Daldridge. On July 30 at 11 o'clock speakers from the Anti-Saloon League will be in the pulpits of the Christian and First Methodist churches.

Another important thing named by the Anti-Saloon League is working for the election of dry men to Congress, the Senate and the Legislature, men who will oppose all efforts to nullify the Prohibition amendment.

Already each of the Men's organizations of the Maryville churches have appointed representatives on a joint committee, that the Christian men of the community may stand together on the vital duties and issues of citizenship. This was done before the suggestion of a County-wide Law Enforcement League. Together with the Ministers Association the men's organizations of the churches endorse the project of the Anti-Saloon League and urge a big attendance at the Rally Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The organization of law Enforcement Leagues is under way in many states, and is proving effective when the community and county really gets back of the organization.

COST NOTHING TO SEE IF EXTRACTION WAS PAINLESS

R. S. Braniger Finds Old Plate Telling of Painless Method 27 Years Ago

R. S. Braniger discovered at an old house he is wrecking on North Fillmore street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, a piece of "boiler plate" material set and cast for use in newspaper offices. The plate contains stories of how the teeth can be extracted without pain, by new discoveries made and applied by dentists. Dates on the stories read 1895.

The plate was evidently brought to Maryville by some dentist for the purpose of advertising. A portion of it reads:

"We have a new and painless method of extracting teeth, and the only way to let people know it is to advertise the same as other firms. We offer you a straight business proposition and if your teeth need attention we solicit your patronage at a reasonable charge. To demonstrate our painless method we will extract teeth free of charge. It will cost you nothing to try our method."

HOPPER CALLED TO WASHINGTON

HARDING WANTS CHAIRMAN R. R. LABOR BOARD IN CONFERENCE

SEPARATE PEACE PLANS

Two Roads Would Negotiate Separately With the Striking Shopmen.

Washington, July 21—President Harding telephoned a summons to Ben W. Hopper, chairman of the railway labor board at Chicago to come to Washington at once to a conference, called because of the increasing seriousness of the railroad strike situation. The president has decided upon a lengthy cabinet meeting devoted entirely to discussion of the industrial situation.

Springfield, Ill., July 21—State's Attorney Smith and acting Sheriff Taylor of Dewitt County conferred with Acting Governor Sterling concerning the rail strike situation at Clinton, where state artilleryman are guarding the strike breakers. Officials advised that the troops be held there in case of a possible outbreak.

Chicago, July 21.—Whether the striking shopmen are to negotiate peace individually with the railroads is expected to be decided at a meeting today of the executive council with the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor.

The Baltimore and Ohio and the Southern railways have invited the strikers to negotiate. If the ranks of the strikers separate, negotiations with other roads is expected to follow.

Poplar Bluffs, Mo., July 21—Machine guns of soldiers guarding the railroad property firing volleys of rifle shots awakened the citizens this morning. Army officers refused to reveal the reason of the incident. No casualties are reported. It is presumed that the shots were used to scare persons lurking in the vicinity of the railroads.

ILLINOIS MINES PARALIZED BY INABILITY TO GET MEN

Early Resumption of Work in the Mines of Four States Is the Forecast.

Springfield, Ill., July 21.—Paralyzed by the miners union of Illinois the operators are unable to resume work.

Acting Governor Sterling in a message to President Harding expressed serious doubt if sufficient numbers of men are available to resume production, owing to the rigid requirements of the miners examination. Danger of another Herrin incident is feared.

Kansas City, Mo., July 21—Early resumption of work in the Kansas mines is forecasted by the operators and they say that it can be done without troop protection.

The mines under the protection of the industrial court law are producing 50 per cent of a normal coal output During the strike no acute shortage is experienced in the district. Nothing definite regarding the opening of the mines in Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas has been announced.

Uniontown, Pa., July 21—Mine guards and strikers concealed on a hillside fought a battle at the Dearth mine. The state police have been called as a result. The mine guards prevented an attempt to blow the plant. There were no casualties.

Cadiz, O., July 21.—National guardsmen are enroute here to guard the strip mines operating with non-union men. The troops were sent on an appeal from Sheriff Martin, who declared that a large number of men were massing near the mine and that trouble was feared.

MEN AND PARTIES

Party ties hang more loosely in these days and many people profess their inability to see any great difference between the two leading parties. There are great fundamental differences but people do not, as a rule, study political principles as carefully as in former days. There is oftimes more thought given to expediency than principle in political battles.

There are millions of people who could not explain in any intelligent way the differences between parties because they have joined the party to which their father or grandfather belonged. Others find that the majority of their associates belong to a party and conclude that it is the better organization because it enlists the support of their crowd.

A great many people now profess to give very little thought to the question of party labels and vote for "the best man." This theory ignores the fact that public men are very largely influenced by their party organizations and associations. If a man is elected to the Senate, to Congress or the legislature, he goes there as a Republican or a Democrat generally, and he trains with the bunch whose label he wears. In voting for him therefore you are voting to support a certain group of party leaders. If you want to make your vote count for your own ideas, you will need to study the leaders that your candidate is going to train with, and see if they represent to your mind the principles that will best promote your ideas of good and economical government.

Many citizens neglect this analysis and vote for men who are excellent citizens and good friends and neighbors, but who if elected will vote directly contrary to the ideas of those who supported them on personal grounds. Our government is built on the theory of administration by party organizations.

The citizen who desires to make his vote count must make up his mind which of these two parties on the whole offers the wisest and more hopeful policies.

ABOUT ABSENTEE VOTING

Any Missourian entitled to vote in any ward in any city or any precinct in any county at the primary election, August 1, if unavoidably away from his voting place and in some other portion of Missouri has the right to cast his ballot wherever he may be by taking the required oath and having the vote sent by the judges to the county in which he or she is a legal voter.

These absentee ballots when received by the county clerk will be canvassed by the counting board and if it is found that the party has a right to vote in the county and the law has been followed in receiving and returning, the ballot will be added to the vote from the precinct in which the party resides in making up the total.

The absentee ballot must be received by the Friday following the election and posted for twenty-four hours before the count is made. This means that the official count of the ballot cast at the primary cannot be made before the Saturday following the election. Unless the vote is very close on some candidates the unofficial returns will show who the nominees are.

The standpatters got another jolt in the Nebraska primaries Tuesday. R. B. Howell, a progressive republican was nominated for the senate by a large majority over Congressman A. W. Jeffries, an administration man.

If it is wrong for former President Woodrow Wilson to write a letter to a friend in Missouri advising against the renomination of Senator Reed, where do Senator Stanley of Kentucky, Senator Shields of Tennessee, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, and other of Senator Reed's friends in the senate get their license to advise the people of Missouri? What is sauce for one might as well be sauce for the other. They are evidently responding to a distress call, but the voters will wonder where the consistency is.

GWELDON BEEDLE 10 YEARS OLD, INJURED

Son of Howard Beedle Sustained Gun Wound in An Accident.

Ravenwood Gazette.

Tuesday forenoon our town was startled when the news that Gweldon Beedle, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beedle, had shot himself.

Gweldon is quite a sportsman, and had taken his 44 shot gun down to the barn to shoot at some pigeons. He took one shot at the birds and some hogs came near him of which he was afraid. In order to evade passing through the swine he climbed up and walked along the side of the corn crib holding to the crib to steady himself with one hand and with the other hand, held the gun above his head in order that he might be safe from any accident, but in some manner the gun fell from his hand and the force in striking the ground discharged the weapon, striking the little fellow in the knee, tearing the flesh clear across the knee cap to the tendon, making an ugly and painful flesh wound and a part of the shot ranged upward to the left arm. Fortunately none entered the body or face.

Dr. D. J. Hunterson was at once summoned, who took four stitches in the wounded knee and dressed the wounds. The boy was then taken to St. Francis hospital, where an X-ray picture of the wounds were made, and which showed two shots were still in the knee and four in the arm, but as they were merely under the surface it was not thought necessary to remove them at this time.

Gweldon is quite a favorite among his playmates, and was full of grit from start to finish, walking from the barn to the house, and underwent the stitching of the wound without an anesthetic or a moan.

While it is not considered a serious wound it will be some time before he can use the limb.

The Merchant's "Turn Overs".

A good store in which to buy is not necessarily the one carrying the largest stocks.

Large stocks often contain "shelf warmers"—undesirable goods; left-overs or shop-worn.

Our stocks are completely replaced several times each year—spic and span new goods are almost constantly coming in and going out.

This is what the merchant calls "turn overs"—the more times he can turn his stock each year the more healthy his business is.

Frequent "turn overs" insure you new, up-to-date and reliable goods at all times.

See Him First In Bathing Suit, Man Advises Girls

Dallas, Tex., July 21—Flappers before you decide on a husband, see him first in a bathing suit.

So advises Frank E. Morris, executive secretary of the Texas Retail Dry Goods Association. He says:

"If I were a woman I would never decide on a man until I had first seen him in a bathing suit and that after he had had a dip in the water, so that I could determine just how ugly a creature I was about to encourage as a possible husband.

"Men are as clever as women in hiding their defects under a tailor's art.

"Too, I would recommend to men that they see women in their bathing suit before popping the question.

"There is a fine chance for deception on the part of women and men might be disillusioned and suffer a good many regrets, just as the woman would, were they to ask the young lady to take a swim before becoming too strongly emeshed in Cupid's spider web."

Morris is defender of the flapper.

"The flapper is a much abused person," he says. "There is too much of a modern tendency to make evil out of everything."

"Charley's Dead---Out In The Lot." Was report of James Mulholland

The fifty year ago column of the Democrat-Forum of last week carried an article stating that "little Charley Mulholland was thrown from a horse and seriously but not dangerously hurt."

This recalls to the people who can remember that far back the details of the incident. There were four of the Mulholland boys, James, George, Charley and Harry. They were sons to Dr. and Mrs. David Mulholland and lived in a house located where the Gray feed barn now stands.

All of the boys were fond of riding horse back and one day while returning from taking the cows to pasture, Charley, who was the poorest horseman of the four, challenged his older brother, James to a race.

The race terminated when the horses turned into the alley near where the First Methodist Church now stands and threw Charley off on his head. He was unconscious and James carried him into the feed lot, stacked him in one corner and went back into the house.

After an hour of feeling uncomfortable around his parents James approached his father and said: "Pa, I know something."

"Jimmy, that certainly is refreshing," replied his father "What is it?"

After enlisting the aid and persuasion of the mother, Dr. Mulholland finally got this repiy:

"Charley's dead.....out in the lot."

The boy was unconscious for a long time and when he finally came to himself, he opened his eyes and said: "Pa, I wish that you'd buy me a saddle."

"I'll buy you a fiddle," replied the father.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO KNOW

1. "What Europe Is Thinking and Doing Today" from the lips of D. THOMAS CURTIN, the greatest of all war correspondents, just returned from an extensive tour of inspection throughout Europe. An eye opener.

2. The economic value of good citizenship, as burned into the consciousness by that prince of orators, HON. ROBERT G. COUSINS. His great address on "The Grim Glory and the Cost of Flags" is a classic masterpiece, and a builder of better Americanism.

3. The true relationship of the farmer to other business interests. HOMER C. BOBLITT will ask and partly answer the question, "Is Farming a Business?" A big boost for the farm population. Hear this man.

4. The common sense reason why every person should make a will. JOHN E. POUNDS talks interestingly on this question and will save barrels of money for the people of this circuit, if all who hear will heed.

5. The underlying principles of true manhood and real and lasting success as brilliantly set forth by that master of the platform, J. CAMPBELL WHITE, of New York City. An address of spiritual values that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

6. The spectacular wonders of the starry heavens as shown through the most powerful teleseopes. An illustrated lecture by B. R. BAUMGARDT, showing the moon at 80 miles and scores of other fascinating scenes.

7. The "Armageddon" of that great Southern orator, JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES, whose flowery gifts of speech are unsurpassed, and whose genius has been a lamp of reform for a quarter of a century. A rare personality with a stirring dignified address.

BRIDGE GOING IN FAST

Drainage Company Hurrying up Building to Afford Passageway to Barnard

(Barnard Bulletin)

Chas. Hollansbe, bridge builder of Hopkins is hard at work with a crew of men on the Barnard Bolckow Drainage Co. bridge over the new channel. The roadway which is merely a plug left in the course of the new channel of the river is being spanned, and as soon as the bridge is completed the plug will be taken out and the ditch opened up.

The bridge that is being built is 40 feet long and fourteen feet wide, made of wood, with approaches 32 ft. long on both sides. The floor of the bridge is five feet above the roadbed.

Mr. Hollansbe expects to have the floor of the bridge laid so that vehicles may pass some time Thursday. Those who come to town either leave their conveyances on the west side of the bridge or drive a mile south and cross on what is known as the Bridges bridge.

The mail carriers who leave town by the west road have been leaving their cars across the river and carrying their mail to them each morning so that the rural postal service would not be interrupted.

CURTIS ROBINSON'S WHEAT YIELD CUT DOWN BY FLY

Thirty Acres Made About 10 Bushels —Oats Crop Good—Threshing At Fay Corrough Farm

Curtis Robinson, near Arkoe, finished up the threshing of wheat and oats on his farm yesterday and found that the Hessian fly had done his crop considerable damage. About thirty acres of his wheat was hit so heavily by the pests that it yielded only about ten bushels to the acre. His oats however made a very good yield.

Threshers are busy today on the farm of Fay Corrough near Arkoe. He has about forty or fifty acres which is turning out about twenty-five bushels to the acre. He planted his wheat late last fall and was not troubled this year with Hessian fly. Mr. Corrough's threshing will perhaps be finished today.

Threshing at Barnard.

Five threshing machines are rapidly threshing out the golden grain and it is being hauled to town for shipment. The rains delayed the threshing program last week and this but the wheat was fairly dry Wednesday afternoon. Tests by weight show from 54 to 58, and most of the better tests were made late in the afternoon when the moisture had been dried up by the hot sun. It is grading No. 2 or less.—Barnard Bulletin.

Gibbs & Money threshed their wheat this week and have it loaded, ready for shipment. They had 1405 bushels. Two tests were made yesterday, one sample testing 57 and the other 57½ pounds to the bushel.—Burlington Junction Post.

town to town, meeting people; and especially as I stand up before people day after day and get their response to ideas and ideals that have to do with a better future in a better world, I come back to an abiding faith in the fundamental integrity and substantial worth of our people and to an assurance that almost amounts to conviction that our suffering are but growing pains which will leave us stronger and finer than ever. With this faith in these people who are every where in our country goes a feeling I can't help—that our leadership is not as far ahead of folks as perhaps it should be, though what this means to the future of democracy I'm not able to say.

"But enough of this. Some of my folks have been good enough to send me, pretty regularly, copies of the Democrat-Forum, and of course it is always most welcome, like a real letter from home.

"I trust you are having a pleasant summer, with enough exercise on the links to keep you in good condition, and that you are looking after the welfare of our community in that way which is the editor's great privilege. I shall appreciate being remembered to the staff. Keep the home fires burning. Very best regards to all."

Skin-beauty—the result of simple cleansing

A normal complexion has both beauty and remarkable powers of resistance—if properly cared for.

But proper care is a simple matter.

It doesn't involve the application of soaps and various preparations which promise magical beauty from complicated and constant manipulation.

If daily washing with a pure, mild soap fails to keep your skin healthy and attractive, you probably need expert medical advice.

Don't rely upon soap for any purely medical purpose. The very best medical authorities say, "Medicated soaps are unnecessary, and usually harmful to the normal skin."

Use soap to keep the skin clean—to clean is soap's only duty, and cleanliness is the only desirable result of its use.

In supplying Ivory Soap for the gentle cleansing of the skin, we are supported, not only by medical authority, but by the results of 43 years of experience in the manufacture of this pure, mild soap, which has been the safe beauty soap of millions of women.

Ivory Soap has but one purpose—to cleanse safely. It promises no magic except the magic of healthful, refreshing cleanliness. And cost what it may, soap can provide nothing more desirable.

PROCTER & GAMBLE

IVORY SOAP

99 44/100% PURE IT FLOATS

"You wouldn't have used that soap on your face, would you?" Mrs. Jollyco is asking.

Now, what a question! Mrs. Jollyco knows very well that Mrs. Folderol would not use on her face a soap that has ruined that beautiful silk blouse of hers.

But wait!—Perhaps Mrs. Jollyco has a purpose!

"Of course not!" replies Mrs. F., indignantly. "It's much too strong for that!"

"Well," declares Mrs. Jollyco, "silks as delicate as that always seem to me as sensitive to soap as my skin. I wouldn't think of using anything but Ivory Flakes for a blouse like that, my dear, because I've used Ivory on my face for years, and Ivory Flakes is just Ivory Soap—flaked."

In his wanderings with Ulysses, Bobby spied a cake of Ivory Soap just under the last paragraph of the text above. Knowing that his mother used Ivory for everything, he got a ladder. Ulysses, meanwhile, took a notion to scratch his back on the ladder, vith the painful result pictured here.

We can't wait to see how Bobby gets down, but he's pretty sure to keep the Ivory Soap.

We said awhile ago that Mr. Jollyco intended to speak sternly to his daughter Sally about what he calls her "comic opera soap"—the colored soap she will use on her face. Our picture shows him doing it.

"Daddy, darling," says Sally, "please don't be mad with me! I must be beautiful!"

"Sally," Mr. J. is going to say when—and if—he gets the chance, "an old sweetheart of mine was more beautiful even than you. She used nothing but Ivory Soap. I still see her use Ivory every day, and she is still beautiful."

How we wish Mrs. Jollyco could be eavesdropping!

A Flaked Soap which meets the important safety test

Before you trust your costly fine fabrics to any soap in any form, a doubt naturally comes up in your mind.

"Is this soap really safe?"

Ask yourself: "Would I be willing to use this soap on my face?"

A soap which is too strong for your face is naturally too strong for your delicate and costly garments.

Ivory Flakes is simply Ivory Soap in flake form. Of course it fully meets this important safety test.

For Ivory Soap, pure, mild, gentle, white—has protected the faces and hands of millions of women since 1879.

Ivory Flakes offers you a real margin of safety for cleansing the very finest garments you own.
